Project Title: Martin Margiela Website

Wikipedia: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Martin_Margiela

I plan to build a responsive, five-page website about Martin Margiela. The pages will move from an introduction to his background, fashion work, and later art practice. A shared navigation bar will link the pages in the order below. I want the site to feel like a simple fashion archive, with a restrained layout, large images, and short captions.

1. Home / Introduction

Introduce Margiela as a Belgian fashion designer and artist. Briefly explain his influence and his preference for anonymity. Use a large image of his work, followed by short previews linking to the other pages.

2. Early Life & Career

Organize his background as a short timeline: childhood in Genk, interest in second-hand clothing, graduation from the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Antwerp in 1979, and work with Jean Paul Gaultier from 1984 to 1987.

3. Fashion & Design

Begin with the founding of Maison Martin Margiela with Jenny Meirens in 1988. Then cover deconstruction, reused materials, oversized silhouettes, and the numbered label with white stitches. Include a section on his Hermès womenswear work from 1997 to 2003. Pair selected garment images with brief explanations.

4. Beyond Fashion

Cover his move into visual art, the 2019 documentary Martin Margiela: In His Own Words, and his 2021 solo exhibition at Lafayette Anticipations. End with a short discussion of how anonymity and transformation connect his fashion and art.

5. Sources & Image Credits

List the Wikipedia article, any additional references, and credits for each photograph or artwork used. Include links to the original sources. This page will also be accessible through the footer on every page.
